

Evaluation Coaching Sheet

Appeal . . . in movie talk . . . is asking you . . .

- Did you like it and why?
- Did you like it enough to watch it again?
- Would your friends like it and why?

Content . . . in movie talk . . . is asking you . . .

- What happened in the story? Did you understand it? Describe what is it about in 25 words or less?
- Who were the main characters? Did you relate to them? Do they remind you of someone you know or someone you've read about? Remember, characters can be real or animated, even animals can be characters.
- How many different ethnic groups did you see? Were there any stereotypes or biases?
- How did the characters treat one another? Explain. Did you see any acts of violence, unsafe behavior, or put-downs? If so, describe.

Production Value . . . in movie talk . . . is asking you . . .

- Did the pictures or photography add or detract? Explain.
- Did the music and sound effects add or detract? Explain.
- Did the costumes, sets, or location add or detract? Explain.
- Did the special effects add or detract? Explain.

Benefits:

- Did the movie get you to think about something new? Like what?
- Did it help you understand yourself or others better? Explain.
- Did the movie get you to sing or play along? Explain.
- Did this movie encourage you to figure something out? Explain.

Favorite Part: What was your favorite part? Why? Oh, come on, be honest . . .

How would you rate it?: 1-, 2-, or 3-Stars? Why?

Whom would you recommend see this film?

- Kids your age? Younger than you? Older than you? Why?